LIVE CLASSES

Latin

Dr. J. Brian Huffling, Ph.D.

Syllabus

2024-2025

Description:

This class is designed to teach students the basic grammar of Latin, focusing on readings from the Christian tradition. While learning basic grammar, students will gradually learn to read classic Latin texts.

Prerequisites:

None.

Course Materials:

- Derek Cooper, Basics of Latin: A Grammar with Readings from the Christian Tradition. Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 2020.

Assignment Structure:

- Quizzes: 25%
- Tests: 50%
- Exercises: 25%

Quizzes: There will be weekly quizzes based on the material we cover in class. This will include grammar, vocabulary, and translation. I will replace the lowest grade with a 100. I will not replace a zero, however.

Exams: There will be a midterm and a final exam based on the quizzes we take.

Exercises: We will complete the exercises from the book. This will be based on completion and will be submitted as a whole percentage number at the end of the course as the percentage of the workbook that was completed.

Class Canvas Portal:

Students will access the course through the Canvas course portal:
